

© Arthur Haines, Native Plant Trust

Photo Credit: Peter Lesica

Photo Credit: Matt Lavin

Bebb's Willow

Salix bebbiana
Willow Family

- Commonly used for restoration projects to reduce erosion & enhance habitat
- Typically grows near swamps, lakes, stream borders & open forests
- Prefers moist sites but can tolerate periods of drought
- Also known as Gray Willow or Long-beaked Willow