

Photo ©Al Schneider, www.swcoloradowildflowers.com

Rocky Mountain Iris

Iris missouriensis
Iris Family

- A moisture-loving perennial that closely resembles domesticated Iris
- Flowers are pale to dark purple, with yellow and white striations
- Rarely will bloom white
- Spreads to form colonies
- Is predominantly found in wetlands and marshes, but can be found in drier areas if moist until bloom time